DEDICATION

J. WILLIAM ETHERIDGE

We, the class of nineteen hundred and fifty seven, dedicate this, our yearbook, to J. William Etheridge. His years of devotion to the teaching of others have inspired students to go on to higher learning.

His unselfish dedication to the school, the school paper, the dramatic productions, and the individual student will long be remembered by those who know him as a teacher, fellow faculty member, or a friend.

Foreword

Three hundred and fifty years ago a group of explorers established the first permanent English settlement in Jamestown, Virginia. Their courage, perseverance, and resourcefulness have been lifted from the pages of history and vitalized for our generation and for many generations to come. Rare would be the person who in witnessing the reconstruction of the Jamestown settlement could emerge from his tour unaffected by the spirit of adventure that characterized the early founders of our country.

Two years ago we were privileged to be among another group of explorers. Ours was an adventure into a new school. We like to think that something of the same spirit which surged through the veins of our American ancesters three hundred and fifty years ago inspired us in the settling and establishing of the colony of the James Blair High School. It is with pride that we, the members of the class of 1957 present between the covers of this book the record of the second year of our school.

We have tried to reconstruct in vital panorama the glorious discoveries in learning made by our fellow class and school mates. Whatever courage, perseverance, and resourcefulness our students have shown are illustrated in the symbol of our school--the Jay Bee. He opens the door to the 1957 BEE HIVE to escort the reader on a conducted tour of the way of life which he has followed in the James Blair Colony of Learning.

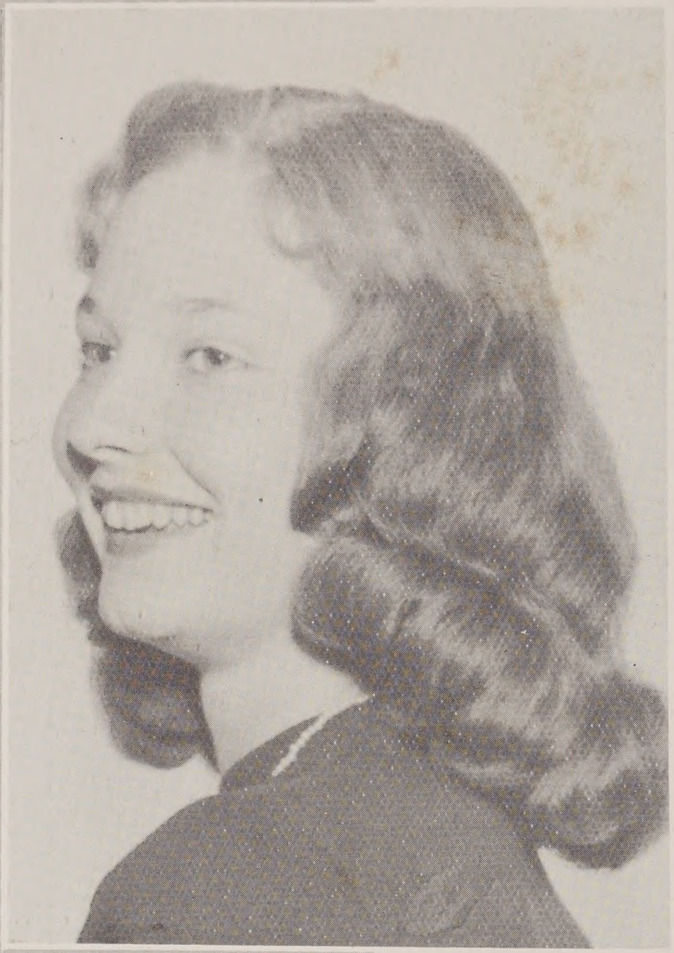
IN MEMORIAM



GAYLE MARTIN GREEN

I cannot say, and I will not say
That she is dead, -- She is just away!
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since she lingers there
And you -- O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return--
Think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here;
Think of her still as the same, I say;
She is not dead -- she is just away!

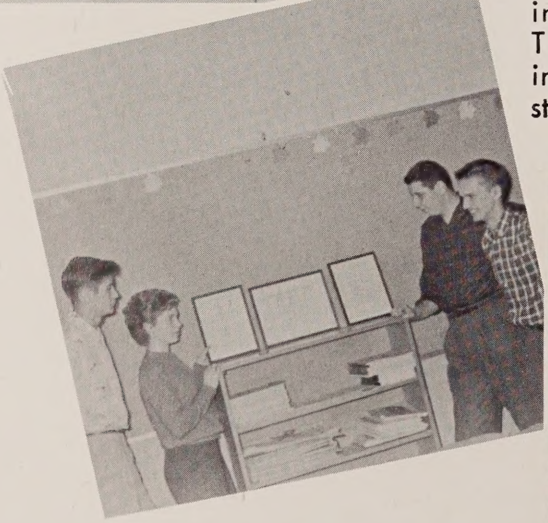
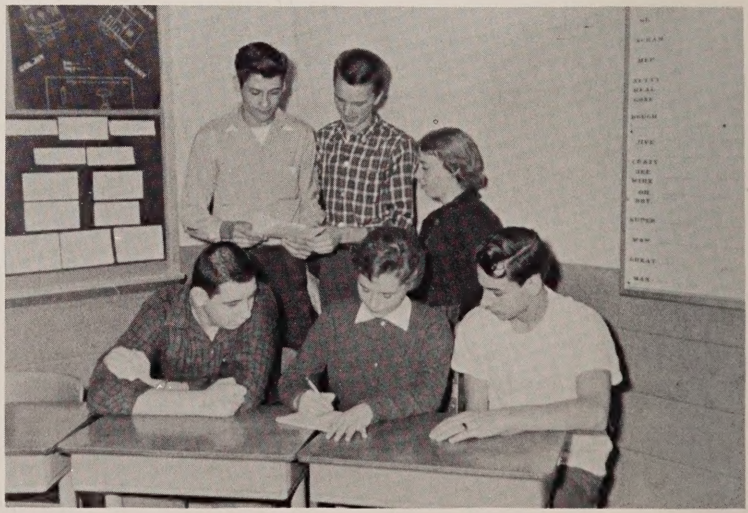
The James Blair High School is located in one of the most historic communities in America. Students are privileged to study the history of their country in a laboratory where the pages of social studies textbooks come alive in the restored eighteenth century buildings, shops, streets, and gardens of Williamsburg, Jamestown, and Yorktown. An appreciation of America and the American way of life is developed in James Blair students as they become aware of the numerous offerings of their school curriculum and of the many opportunities which they have to develop to the maximum of their capabilities.

In the ensuing pages, the Yearbook Photographer made "on-the-spot" observations of students who were having experiences in real citizenship training as they pursued courses of their choice and as they were engaging in methods of learning appropriate to their interests and needs.

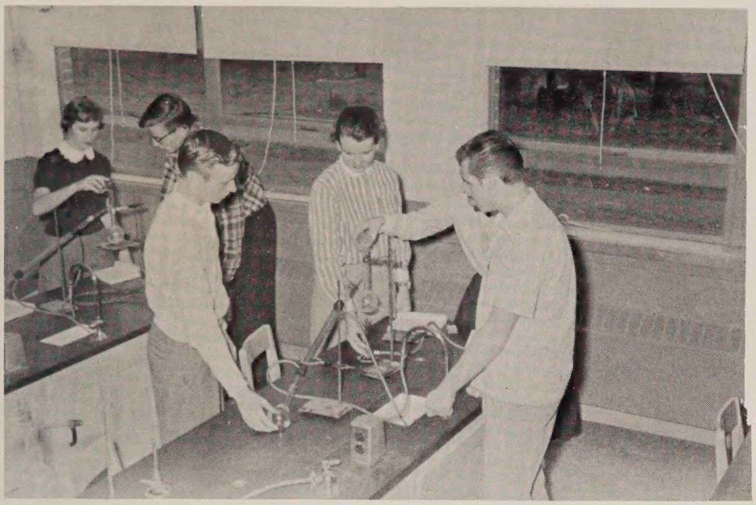
The staff photographer records his first observations in the scenes on this page. These pictures show students in the Distributive Education and Vocational Office Training Classes as they study office machines, plan interviews, read consumers' reports, and appraise their state certificates of recognition.





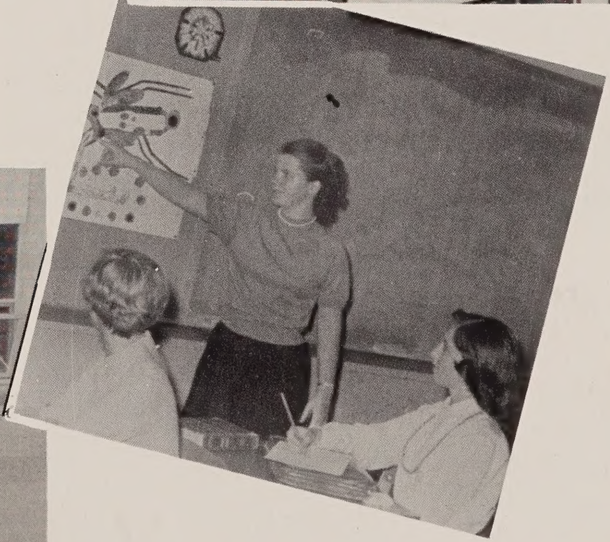
POWER'S MOTOR CO.

HALLMARK JEWELERS



Elective courses in Biology, Physics, and Chemistry offer students opportunities to explore the wonders of these areas. Experiments in the well-equipped James Blair Science Laboratory capture the interest and attention of the staff photographer as he observes the abundant courses in elective subjects which are available at James Blair.

With a good foundation in General Science which is required of all students, one can pursue advanced sciences with confidence.



PERSON'S

Free exchange of opinion in a well-organized panel discussion help students learn to support ideas with facts.

Oral interpretation gives students experience in communicating ideas to an audience.

Students find that there are many ways of projecting ideas in addition to the spoken word. Bulletin Boards offer inspiration.

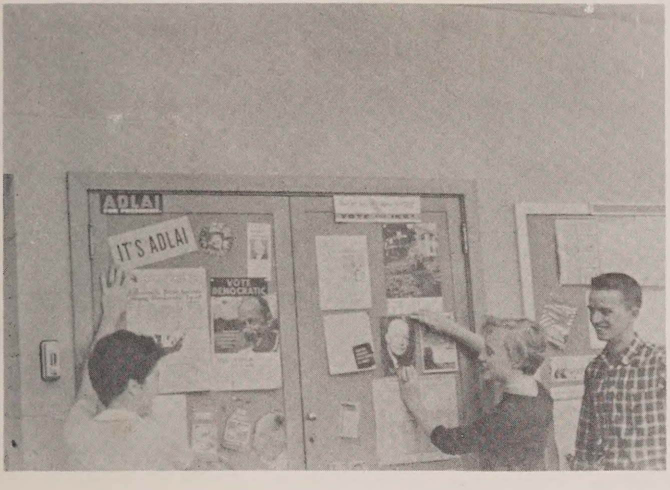
In the scene below the staff photographer snaps a group of students who are enjoying class time for recreational reading.

The Language Arts Program at James Blair provides opportunities for students to learn to express themselves as well as opportunities to appreciate literature and to improve their skills of communication.

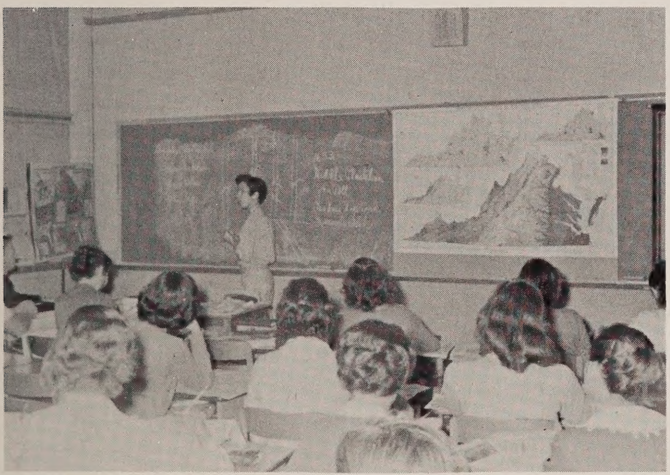
Victrolas, tape recording machines, slide projectors, moving picture machine, and a school camera are among the audio-visual aids available at James Blair for students in Language Arts and other classes.

PENINSULA HARDWARE

No one could escape the excitement of the Political Campaigns this election year! U. S. Government students compete in bulletin board defense of their candidates.



The Social Studies program at James Blair includes in grades nine through twelve a course in World History, a course in United States Government, and a course in United States History. Teachers use the resources of the community to enhance student understanding and appreciation of history.

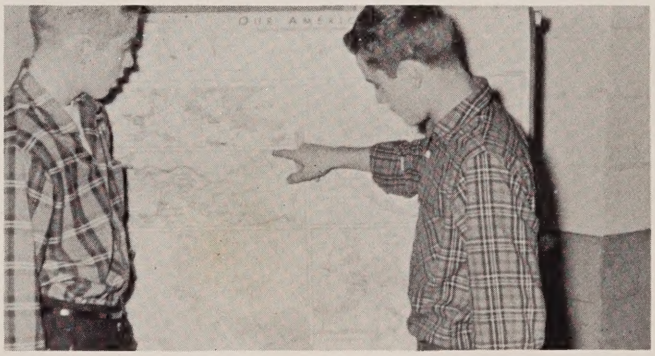


American History students plan with their teacher for tours of the colonial area in which they live. When plans are complete, they board buses to tour the areas.

PASTRY SHOP

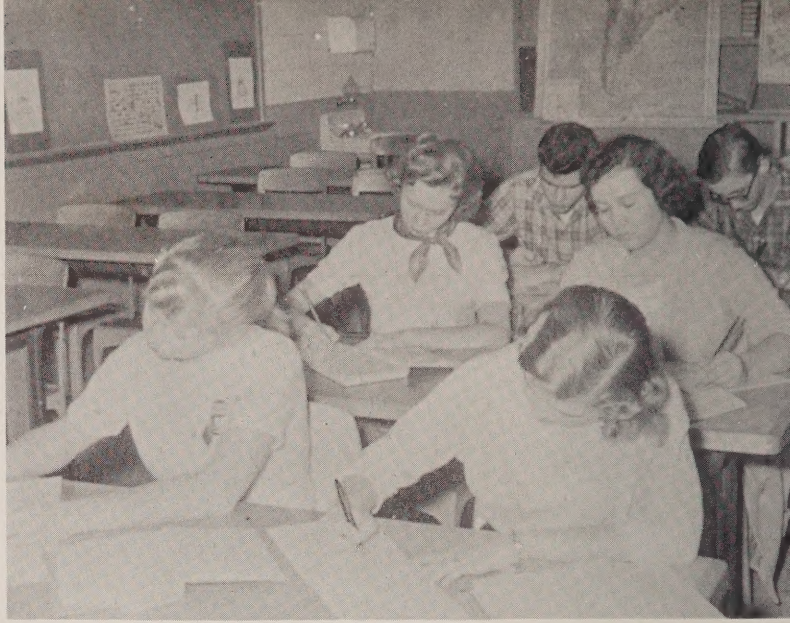
Even the staff photographer senses the grueling study necessary for mastery of the intricacies of American Government.

Although the little sign over the board seems insignificant in this picture, tenth grade history students know its importance!



An understanding of geography is most valuable in World History. Students find their map work very fascinating.

Evidence of long hours of practice was evident to the staff photographer as he looked in on the work being done by the Shorthand students. Shorthand is a valuable elective to those students who are planning to go from high school into office work and to those who plan to take jobs after graduation.



The Folk Dancing and Social Dancing program is sponsored by the Physical Education instructors. Boys and girls find great pleasure in the group fun provided by this activity.

Students in Latin work in groups or individually in order to move at whatever speed they are capable of. The staff photographer was impressed with a group of Latin students who were absorbed with the stories which they were translating.

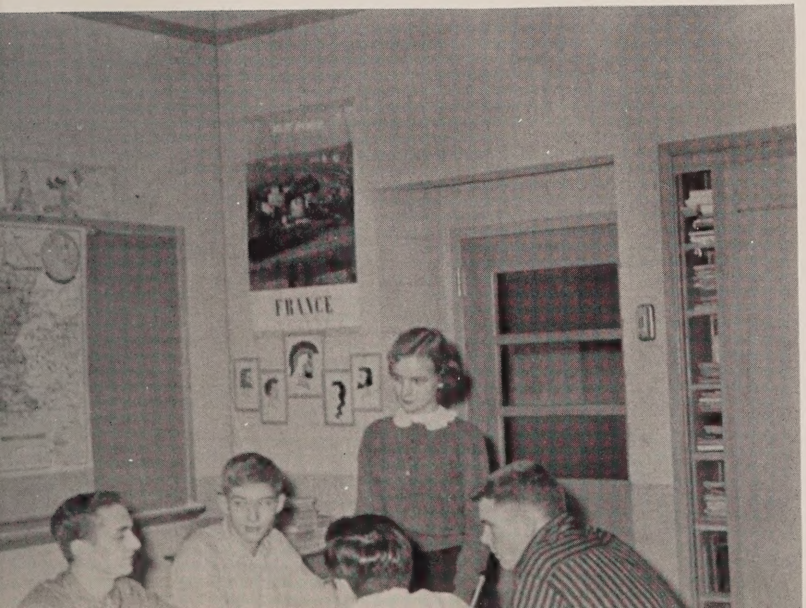
EXCHANGE CLUB

James Blair offerings in the area of Business include two years of typing, one year of shorthand, and one year of bookkeeping.

A high school course in Art offers talented students opportunities to work in a variety of media.

Foreign language electives at James Blair include two years of Latin and two years of French. Students may have a third year with special arrangement.

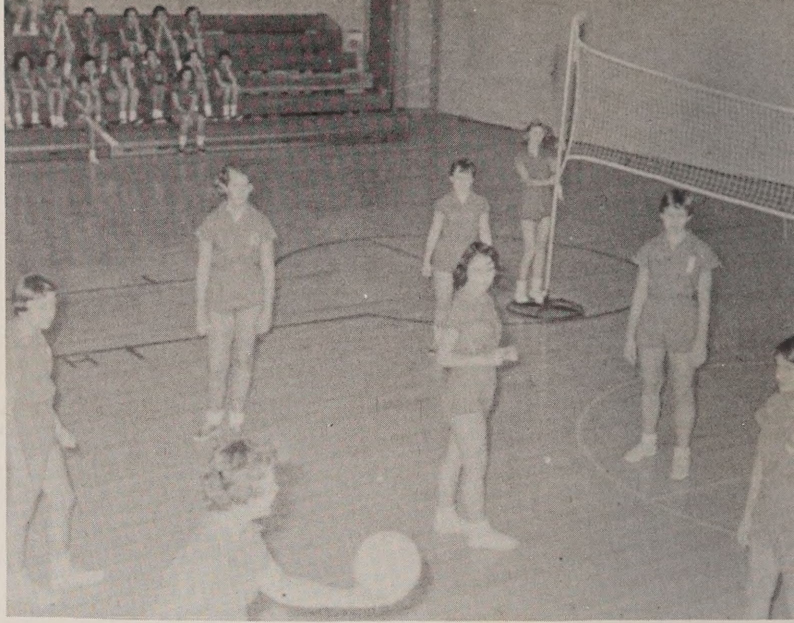
Students at James Blair are well aware of the concern that the school administration and the faculty have for each individual student. Provision is made in the curriculum for students to have instruction and experiences in skills which will be of help now and in later life.

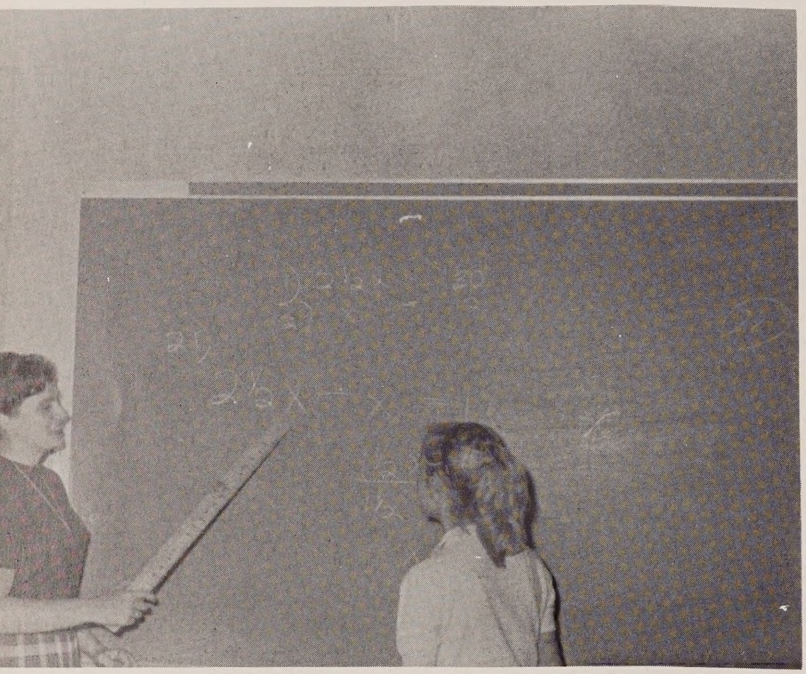


The staff photographer follows with interest the work that students are doing in their typing, art, and French classes. The photographer successfully shows the concentrated interest of students who have chosen these courses with the help of their parents and school advisers.

COLONIAL RESTAURANT

Not even the presence of the staff photographer could upset the concentration of this Girls' Physical Education class. Volleyball is just one of the many sports that the girls learn and enjoy. James Blair students are well aware of the significance of physical fitness to the American Way of life.





Electives in Mathematics offer a wide range of instruction to the college-bound and to the career-bound students of James Blair. Algebra, geometry, solid geometry and trigonometry make a great contribution to students' ability to think. Vocational mathematics provides experiences in the fundamentals of arithmetic which are especially helpful in everyday life.

Girls who choose Home Economics learn many skills in homemaking. The staff photographer found a group very busily engaged in preparing foods in the well-equipped kitchen unit of the James Blair Home Economics department.

FRAZIER - GRAVES

Although Physical Education is not required beyond the tenth grade, students in grades eleven and twelve frequently choose to continue their activities and instruction in these physical education classes. Not only do students find instruction worthwhile, but they also realize the many values in wholesome attitudes toward life.

The staff photographer paused in his rounds to observe this student who was most intent on his woodworking project. Industrial Arts courses include Metal Work, WoodWork, and Electronics. The Industrial Arts Department is one of the most well-equipped shops in the area.

One of the most fascinating courses in the Industrial Arts Department is the course in Electronics in which students explore many of the marvels of electricity.

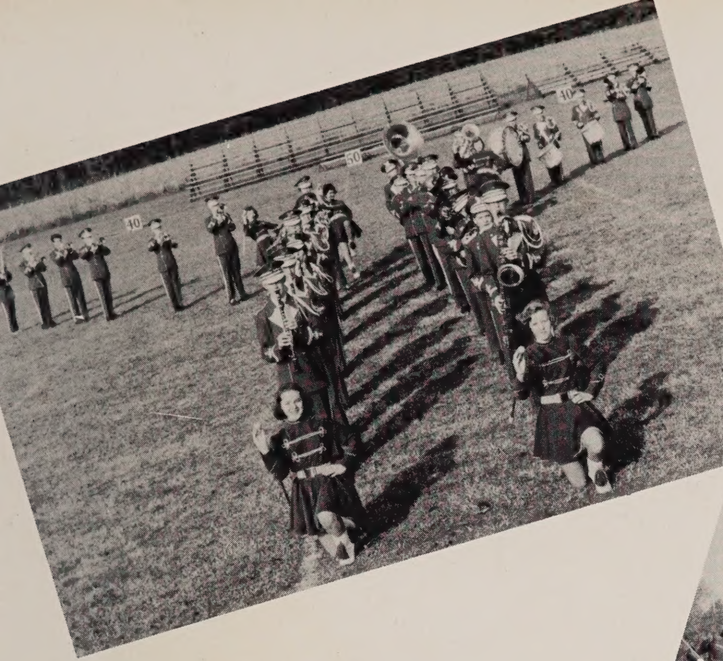
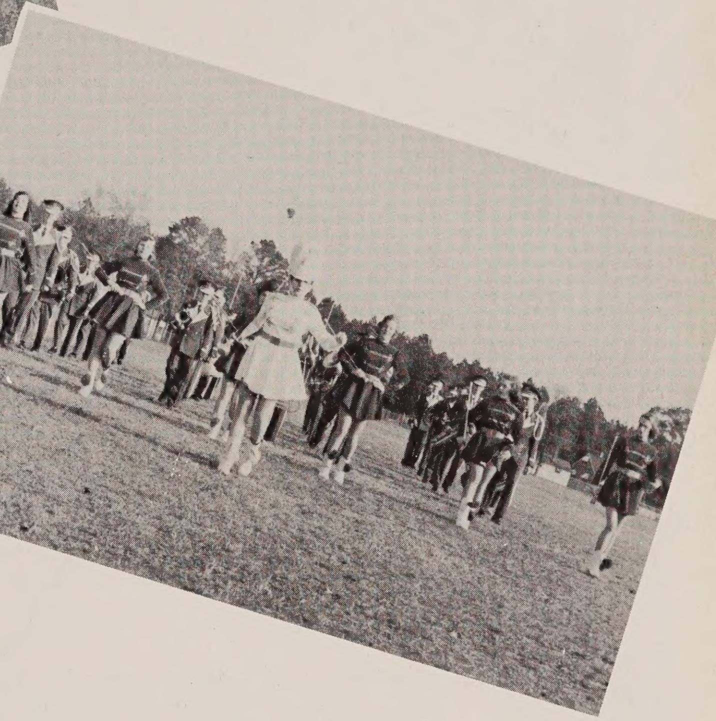
James Blair Band

Band Director
Mr. Charles McCandless

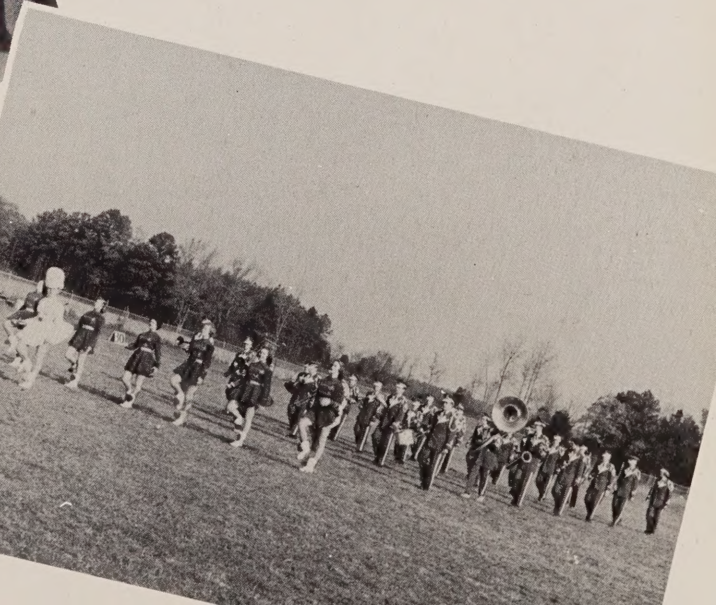


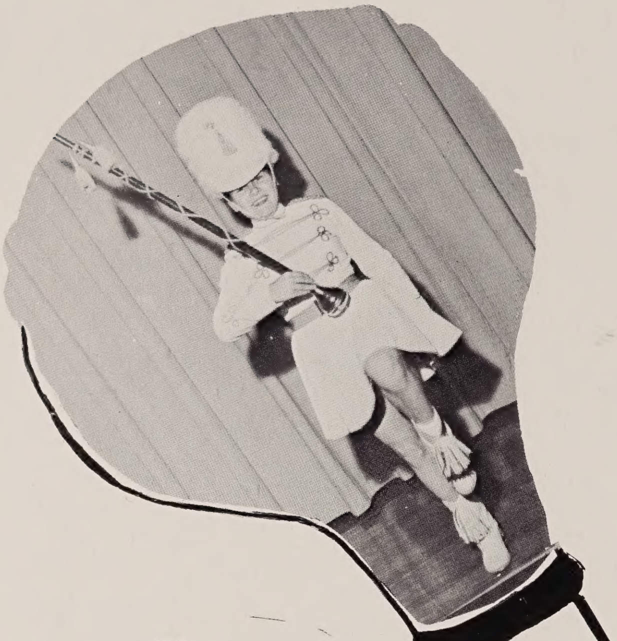
The Blair Band practices a "Y" formation for the half time ceremony at York High School.



Virginia Vaughan leads the band onto the field before a home game.

The Blair Band during The Jay Cee Band Contest in which they won first place.





After going to Band School for two weeks last summer, Gwen Dowdell, Carol Brenegan, Susan Brown, Bettie Mae Garret, and Geraldine Claiborne led by Virginia Vaughan, Drum Majorette, returned to be Blair's majorettes for the second year. These girls were joined by Loretta Leonard, new to Blair, and they formed a group active in both school and community affairs.

These girls marched with the band at all of the home football games and entertained everyone with their intricate half-time routines here and at our game with York.

The majorettes led the band in William and Mary's homecoming parade and were also in the Santa Claus parade in December. They competed with six other band and majorette groups from this area and were largely responsible for James Blair's winning the the one hundred dollar first prize.

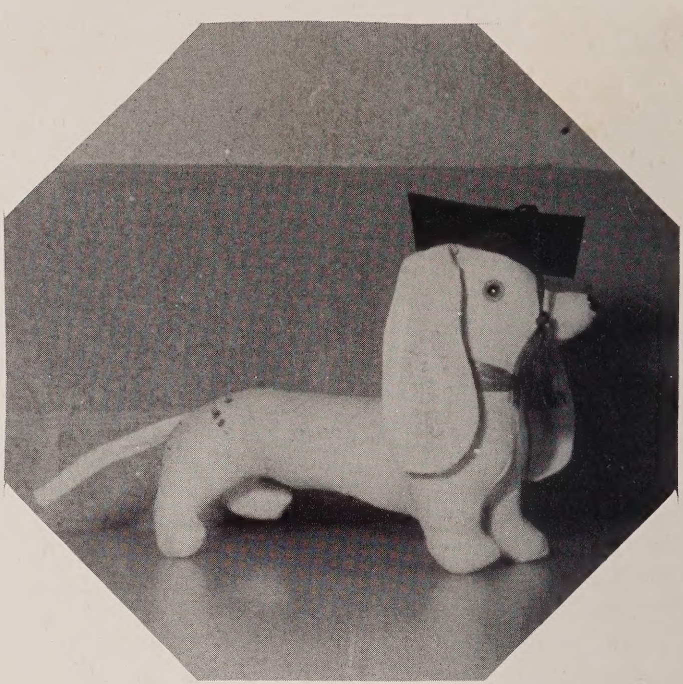
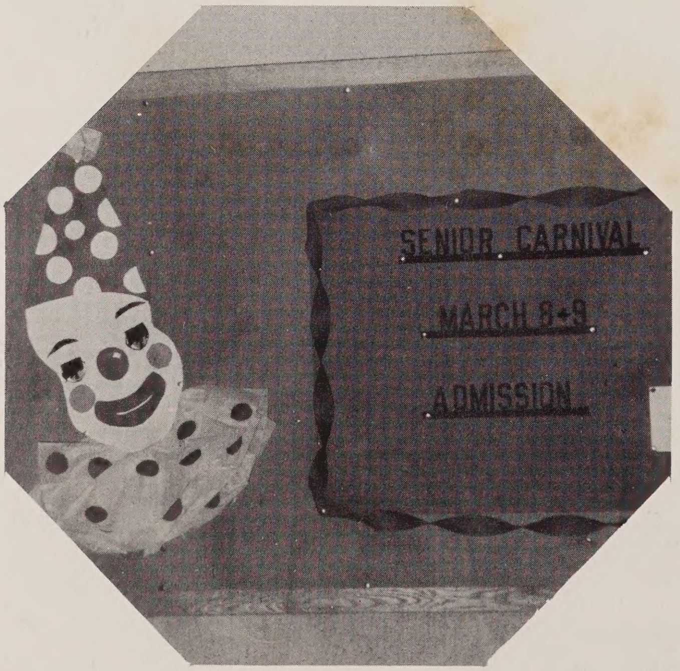
VIRGINIA GAZETTE

One of the biggest activities of the year was the Magazine Campaign conducted by the Student Council. Each class tries to outdo the other in order to come out with the most money at the end. This year the Senior class won the Campaign and also a bet made with Mr. George Pitts by Bill Bowes, Senior class president.

This hound dog played an important part in the campaign. He traveled from high homeroom to high homeroom and was signed by each high salesman during the weeks of Campaigning.





The Senior Carnival held annually by the Senior class is the biggest money making project of the year. A horror house, planned by the Senior boys is a real highlight. Bingo, a fortune teller, and other various booths are found at the Carnival.

It's Not Whether You Won Or Lost, But How You Played The Game

This year's football team boasted a record of 6 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie; a record we, as well as the team, can be proud of. They started the season, September 14, with a burst of power to defeat Franklin 13-6. The next week Gloucester failed to hold up under Blair's pressure and they fell, as did the previous team, 13-6. Blair's next victim was Matthews, who proved unable to withstand the test and once again our team emerged victorious holding a 31-14 victory. October 12 provided the Blair eleven with one of the toughest games scheduled. Both Smithfield and Blair played hard games but both failed to score, and the contest ended with a 0-0 score. In the meeting with York on Oct. 19, Blair met its match. York broke through the line and into the end zone five times to dwarf our touchdown, 32-7. The next time the Jay Bees took the field they came through with a fine showing and provided their followers with a tense, fast moving homecoming game, sending Varina home with a 7-6 defeat. November 2 brought Prince George up before Blair and once again the Jay Bees showed its strenth and teamwork in a perfect game, stinging the Royals 20-0. Nov. 9 finished the last chapter in the 1956 book of football experiences and though injuries kept some of Blair's key men from playing, the Blairmen finished their season triumphant over Poquoson with a 14-12 victory.

The Blair team succeeded in producing a record to be envied by many.

Each year, the Monogram Club strives to outdo itself from the year before, when Homecoming rolls around.

James Blair won by a score of 7-6, which added to the festive mood of the dance the following night.

The Homecoming Queen, Miss Betty Raye Cox, with her two attendants, Sharon Stout and Julia Pitts was crowned by Mr. Samuel Patton during the intermission at the Football Festival.

Grace:
We "sure"
have had a
nice year together.
Geometry class was our
biggest triumph together.
I don't know how I ever made it and you kept getting those good grades while I --- well, the story is too sad to complete.
Good luck
Frannie

Grace
I'm sure we'll have a real good
time this summer
and a good Junior year.
Good Luck,
Margaret

To Turnpike

You are a real nice girl and it really is a shame. Try and be !
a little more human;
No joke Be good if possible
